MEMORIAL SERVICES

Held Sunday are Well Attended.

PROGRAMS RENDERED

Consisting of Addresses and Musical Number.

Druids and Druids Circle and Order of the Eastern Stars Honor Their Departed Dead.

The Druids and Druids Circle held their annual memorial services at their hall on South Main street, Sunday afternoon. The attendance was large and a program of unusual interest was enjoyed. Henry Ackerman was the presiding officer and gave a short and appropriate talk in opening the services.

The principal address of the afternoon was given by Adam Weber, of Dayton, state secretary of the Druids.

Mr. Weber spoke for probably 20 minutes, giving many beautiful thoughts on the beauties of love and friendship. He urged all to forget the faults of their dead brothers and to remember only their good deeds.

Excellent music was rendered during the afternoon by the choir of the Salem Evangelical church, directed by John F. Lefler. The choir gave the opening number, which was followed with a report from the secretary of the two lodges, Frederick Zachman.
The roster of the dead was read by Mr. Zachman.

Following Mr. Weber's speech, Mrs. Emma Egli and her two daughters, Emma and Martha, sang a selection. Mrs. Frederick Zachman gave an interesting talk to the members of both lodges, and after a selection by the choir, little Miss Ella Zachman gave a recitation. Mrs.
Egeli and daughters sang a selection, George Glick gave a recitation, and Rev. Joseph Reinecke, pastor of Salem Evangelical church, spoke for a short time. The program was closed with a benediction by Rev. Mr. Reinecke.

The roster of the dead follows:
Druids—Christian Behner, Carl Kinsler, John Stengel, George Lusch John Kramer, John and Frederick Diebold, Philip Maier, William Kramer, Louis Drollinger, T. Christian, John Hageman, John Kramer, Michael Brigel, Christian Schweigert, John Schneider, Jacob Stoer, Frank Eberle, Jacob Weber and John Maier.

Druids Circle—George Lusch, John Stengel, Michael Brigel, Louisa Lusch and Barbara Drollinger.

Following the services at the hall, the committees in charge, accompanied by all of the ladies and seven flower girls, went to the cemetery and decorated the graves.

The committees in charge were composed of Mrs. Frederick Zachman, Mrs. Michael Maier, Mrs. Charles Reiff, from the Druids circle, and Messrs. Ignatz Bender and Frederick Zachman from the Druids.

The hall, where the services took place were beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants.

Lydia Chapter, No. 43 Order of the Eastern Star held a very beautiful and impressive memorial service at the Masonic Temple Sunday afternoon.

The service was the first ever held by the local lodge and practically the entire membership was in attendance.
Following an invocation by Rev.
Henry Holzerstott, a quartette composed of Mrs. J. B. Taylor, Mrs. Don E. Brockett, Mrs. J. W. Jacoby, and Mrs. D. E. Brockett, rendered a pretty selection.

The address of the day was delivered by Rev. George M. Rourke pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The speaker talked principally on the precepts of the order and of the great benefit it has done during its existence.

The memorial ceremonies were conducted by Mrs. H. V. Davis, who after a short address called the role of the departed members. As each name was called a carnation was placed in a vase.

The departed members of the order are Mrs. Abigail DeWitt, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Florence Parkinson, Mrs.
Mary Hodges, John Wilson, Mrs. Rose Oppenheimer, Mrs. Belle Bland, Mrs.
Rosetta Knapp, A. B. McMurray, Joseph Johnson, Mrs. Mary Powers, Phillip Dombagha, Charles Clark, U.
K. Guthery, and Mrs. Rebecca Miller.

DIPLOMAT'S SONS LIKE SIRE.

Robert, Gasper and Elliot Bacon All Stars in Athletics.

Boston.—It is rare to find three brothers in the same college at the same time, all of whom are prominent in the same branch of sport, and it is still rarer to find in them the sons of a man who while at the same college was an athlete of such marked ability that his reputation is still familiar to the undergraduates of his alma mater.

This distinction belongs to the Bacon family, which for two generations has been prominent socially and in athletics at Harvard. Robert Bacon, the father, who is assistant secretary of state, was graduated from Harvard in the famous class of 1880, in which President Roosevelt was a member.
While in college Mr. Bacon was a member of the varsity crew, and of the football and track teams. He is best known, however, as a splendid Star Athletes.)

oarsman, and his sons all follow in his footsteps.

Robert Lord Bacon, the oldest son, who is a senior and the captain of the varsity crew, prepared, like all his brothers at Groton. In his freshman year he was a member of his freshman football squad, and captain of his class crew. For the last two years he has rowed at six on the varsity.
Like his father, he is a man of magnificent physique, and a very powerful oar. He is also making a very good crew captain. He is very popular, and at the recent class election he was chosen chairman of the class committee.

Gasper C. Bacon, the second brother, er, also went in for football and boating in his freshman year. He played end on the 1906 freshman class football team, and was a member of the class four-oared crew. He is not as strong as his elder brother, but, like him, is a good oar, and last year and during the present season he has rowed steadily in the second varsity eight. In his sophomore year he was elected president of his class, and he is one of the three undergraduate members of the Harvard athletic committee.

Elliot C. Bacon, the youngest of the three brothers, did not play football, but has stuck steadily to rowing. He is stroking his freshman crew, and was recently elected captain. In the class races this spring, and at the American Henley at Philadelphia, Bacon proved himself to be one of the best two-mile strokes Harvard has produced. He has splendid rhythm and snap, and at the same time the judgment which is absolutely essential to the good stroke oar. He is looked upon by many prominent boating men as the most promising oar-man of the Bacon family.

DOUBLE-DECKERS IN LONDON.

"Two-Story" Cars Are Popular With English Tramway Patrons.

Brooklyn.—In this country, where elevated roads limit the height of our city cars, we have had no opportunity given to us by the traffic managers to test the double-deck trolley, so much favored by the English. Our English cousins think more of the outdoor life,

A London Double-Decker.

anyway, and when on an old London bus they wanted to be on the roof where the air and the view were freer. The upper-deck bus, now succeeded by the motor omnibus in London, is the forerunner of the double-deck trolley car in England. But, for that matter, the old London horse cars had two decks, also, and may have contributed to this upper-deck habit.

Among the finest cars of this type are the new cars of the London United Electric tramways, having the upper deck enclosed and roofed in. And at each end of the upper deck is a large platform for the accommodation of smokers.

What Success Means.

The man who accumulates riches at the expense of others has not made a success in his life. He has failed.
He has starved his heart, warped his intellect, mutilated his better impulses until the better self that might have been a power for good lies at his feet, miseducated and lifeless.
The woman who overrides friends, family and conscience to better her social or financial position, is not a success to herself or to anyone else.

Clubs and Societies

Sunday a merry crowd of young people boarded the nine o'clock interurban car and went to Greenwood Lake to spend the day. Rowing, contests, music, etc., made the day pass pleasantly. A sumptuous dinner and supper, consisting of all the delicacies of the season, were enjoyed by all.
In the afternoon, several young ladies from Delaware joined the crowd.
When evening came, after rowing on the lake, the young people left for Marion declaring Greenwood Lake an ideal place for a day's outing.

The crowd consisted of the Misses Ruder and Reader, of Delaware, and Grace Wise, Besse Siffritt, Nellie Toot, Florence Mack, Ruby Staley, and Bertha Stull and Messrs. Will Burke, Fred Emig, Joseph Gibson, Warren Wise, John Hector, Mele Wise, and Joseph Hector of this city.

The Little Lights of Literature enjoyed a picnic and outing at Olean-tange park Columbus Saturday. The members numbering seven chaperoned by Mrs. Watkins left at 7:30 o'clock over the Hocking Valley in a special car for the city. Upon arriving at the park the day was spent in enjoying the pleasures offered.

The principal feature was an elaborate dinner which the party prepared from lunch basket at the noon hour. The pleasant outing was brought to an end at 6 o'clock in the evening when the party returned to the city.

Mr. John Q. Berry of this city and Miss Lillie M. Wagner of Basil, Ohio, were quietly united in marriage at the home of the groom's parents Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Berry on South State street, at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev.
D. H. Bailey of Epworth M. E. church. The groom is a young man possessing many friends and is employed at the Huber shops. The bride is a pleasing and attractive young lady. Mr. and Mrs. Berry will reside in the city.

Mr. Benjamin F. Ward of St.
Paris, Ohio, and Miss Ella L. Law-lis, of this city, were quietly married at the parsonage of Epworth M. E. church Sunday at 9:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. H. Bailey.
Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for Findlay, where they will make their future home.

America's Babel.

This upper corner of Michigan is a show ground of the people of 39 nations at work, side by side in peace and comfort. The native-born is innumerable on a basis of one American to 100 foreigners.

The Cornwall and Finnish miners lead in numbers, followed by the Irish, Scotch, Welsh, German, Polish, French, Danish, Norwegian, Swedish, Poles, Russians, Hollanders, Greek, Swiss, Austrians, Belgians, Negroes, Slavs, Bohemians, with a sprinkling above ground of Chinese, Arabians, Persians and one family of Laplanners.

There is an amazing medley of races, in which the American seems fairly lonesome. Among the local newspapers are the Weekly Gleaner, the Daily Palmetto, the American Southerner and La Stentinielli.

Even the leading American newspaper publishes for the benefit of its subscribers a daily column in the dialect of Cornwall.—Outing.

Queer Book Titles.

"These old books," said the antiquary, as he pointed to a dingy upper shelf, "are curious for their titles."

"Here is a volume of sermons printed in Salem in 1792. 'Sermons to Asses' is its scornful name."

"Here is a book dated 1743 that is called 'Look to It, or I'll Stab Ye.' It is a treatise on polygamy."

"This is a pamphlet by a splinter against the young men of the seventeenth century. Its title is 'A Dissertation on the Pertness of Our Youth in General. Especially Such as Are Trained Up at Tea Tables.'"

"A return blast to that dissertation is this other pamphlet of the same year—'Quippes for Upstart New-fangled Gentlemen; or, a Glass to View the Pride of Valerious Woman.'"

Which Way?

"Yes," mused the celebrated oculist of fabulous fees, as he paused in the work of writing an article for the press, "we oculists want to get dots on this face-veil industry."
